

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Information for Parents

What is SEND?

Definition (Code of Practice, 2014): "Children have SEND if they have a learning difficulty or a disability which calls for SEN provision to be made for them."

Children are considered to have a learning difficulty or disability if they:

- a) Have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of the same age; or
- b) Have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities generally provided for children of the same age.

At Stockton Wood Primary, we are committed to ensuring all children reach their full potential, including those with additional needs.

SEN, disability or both?

Key Staff Supporting Pupils with SEND

Teachers

Every teacher is a teacher of children with SEND. Class teachers deliver high-quality, inclusive teaching and are responsible for the progress and outcomes of every child in their class. Lessons are carefully planned and differentiated to meet the needs of all learners.

SENCo (Special Educational Needs Coordinator)

The SENCo takes the lead in coordinating assessments, supporting interventions, monitoring provision, and liaising with parents and outside agencies. The SENCo also oversees staff training and acts as an additional point of contact for families.

Teaching Assistants (TAs)

Teaching Assistants work under the direction of the class teacher to deliver specific programmes and interventions. Some children may receive dedicated support through an Enhanced Provision Plan.

Learning Support Assistant

The Learning Support Assistant provides guidance and practical support to families who may be facing challenges, including attendance concerns, behaviour difficulties, or bereavement.

Identifying SEND

Before Starting School

Some children have already been identified with additional needs before joining Stockton Wood. We meet with parents, nurseries, and pre-schools to ensure a smooth transition. Our staff attend review meetings where possible to prepare for each child's needs.

In School

All teachers are responsible for identifying pupils with SEND as early as possible. This may occur through classroom observations, teacher assessments, screening tools, or emotional monitoring.

Parents/Carers

Parents know their children best. We encourage open communication between home and school. Any concerns raised by parents are always taken seriously and form part of our identification process.

Provision for Children with SEND

Once a child's needs are identified and discussed with parents, they may be placed on the SEND Register under the single category of SEND Support.

The Code of Practice (2014) identifies four broad areas of need:

1. Communication and Interaction (including Speech and Language)
2. Cognition and Learning
3. Social, Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties
4. Sensory and/or Physical Needs

Most children with SEND learn alongside their peers and receive high-quality, differentiated teaching. Teachers adapt lessons, tasks, and resources to ensure accessibility for all. Some pupils may receive additional support from a Teaching Assistant, either individually or in small groups.

Home–School Partnership

Parents play an essential role in supporting their child's development. We believe that working together leads to the best outcomes. Parents of children with SEND are involved through:

- Termly review meetings
- Additional meetings if requested by parents or staff
- SEND information shared through the school website and newsletters
- Transition meetings with nurseries, secondary schools, and other settings

Working with Outside Agencies

We work closely with a range of professionals to ensure children receive the best possible support. These include:

- Educational Psychologists
- Speech and Language Therapists
- Occupational Therapists and Physiotherapists from Alder Hey
- Specialist Teachers from Liverpool Learning Support Service SENISS

- A Quiet Place
- Social Care and Early Help Teams

The Graduated Approach

We follow the Graduated Approach outlined in the SEND Code of Practice. This process ensures children receive the right level of support at the right time:

1. Assess – Identify and understand the child's needs
2. Plan – Set clear outcomes and agree on strategies and interventions
3. Do – Implement the agreed support
4. Review – Evaluate progress and adjust provision where necessary

Assess, Plan, Do, Review at each stage

Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCPs)

Some children with significant or complex needs may require an Education, Health and Care (EHC) Plan. An EHCP sets out the child's educational, health, and social care needs. It details the support required to achieve the best possible outcomes and is developed in partnership with families and professionals.
